

CDO/Co-Founder

As co-founder and Chief Design Officer, Nikita has been responsible for Securly's design and branding from the company's inception and has touched every single pixel the company has put forth, including company logo, business cards, product UI, and much more. Nikita drives design thought leadership and execution throughout the company and manages customer experience for more than 8 products in Securly's B2B and B2C portfolio. Prior to Securly, Nikita served as Product Designer at Citrix Systems, where she led the visual redesign of the company's entire Intranet portal, used by more than 9,000 employees worldwide, and won the 2014 Design for Experience Award for her design.

Outside of design, dance is Nikita's second passion. She is a certified Bollywood Cardio instructor and teaches classes in her free time.
